same day within 2 hours after order confirmation.

- If you select from multiples seller' shop into one order, shipping fee will be calculated separately for each seller' shop.

How much does shipping cost for Upcountry?

If your delivery address is in upcountry, the delivery fee will be THB 300 for a single order from one seller, no matter how much of order volume. We, EGG Mall, try to support customer to save shipping cost in case they have high order volume. However, this cost may be varied depends on average market price.

How long does it take for delivery to Upcountry?

Normally we will send goods to third party logistic within 3 working days after order confirmation to ship goods to you. We try to fulfill your order as soon as we can, however, in occasional case that some item in the order list is not available, it may take longer time.

If I have multiple delivery address, what should I do ?

You can request another delivery address to WhatsEGG (Thailand) to create for you, and you can select different address for each order. The invoice address will always be the original one.
